

I feel TVcaptioning can make better improvements. There is such a delay and its hard to keep up I know it isnt captioned word for word. And this causes alot of confusions. It can get tiring trying to read and listen to captioning when it isnt acturate in word for word.And sometimes I experience situations where the last 15 minutes of the show the captioning isnt there. This is frustrating because the ending of the show is usually the best part and then you dont have the captions to get the ending part. Why does this happen?
